

Meet Janice Meek

Janice Meek,

Director- TTPL (The Tronix Training Programme Limited)

Jan Meek started her career as a continuity girl in the film and TV industry with Hollywood super stars Sammy Davis Jr. Jerry Lewis and Roger Moore amongst them. Married and with a small family she then moved to Saudi Arabia working for the United States Geological survey before returning to the UK embarking on a career as a retail, catering and property entrepreneur in the Cotswolds and South Wales.

She was the first female Chairman of the Chipping Norton Chamber of Commerce before being elected as a town councillor and then Mayor. She followed this serving as a non-executive director of the Heart of England Training and Enterprise Council.

A triple Guinness World Record holder from successfully rowing the Atlantic with her MP son, ten years later racing with him to the magnetic North Pole, she followed that up with a walk to the Geographical North Pole a year later.

Event management, the after dinner and motivational speaking circuit beckoned where she has aligned her passion for public speaking, using her own life-changing experiences as the basis for learning points in personal development, business and career management as well as an inspiration for achievement for children of all ages in her schools programme. As the founder of the Carpe Diem Foundation she raises funds and works with others to provide bursaries to schools, colleges and people of all ages help them achieve their own personal goals.

At TTPL (TRONIX Training Ltd) Jan's motivational speaking, fund raising and management communication training and publishing background brings a new dimension to our expertise in delivering management capacity building and communication programmes, event management and communication training activities with the view to bring TTPL forward. The new business trades as 'Jan Meek' and 'Inspirationelle' brands and 'one-0-one' publishing will be launched to support Jan Meek's written and audio-visual materials.
